How to play: Hyrule Forest came under the influence of the three 'seeds of darkness' – 'the source of sadness', 'the subject of envy', and the 'creator of anger'. To restore the world to its former glory, Link must destroy these seeds and restore normality to the great forest. Use the arrow keys on your computer keyboard to manipulate a link around the forest. Press the key to activate your sword, and S key to block enemy attacks. Press the Return/Enter key to pause the game at any time. Explore the forest, eliminating enemies along the way through a sword slash move. Link loses heart from his health bar every time he comes into contact with one of the bad guys. Keep an eye on your health bar along the top of the game screen. Link has a bomb magically attached to him as soon as he enters the woods. This bomb automatically tracks Link in every direction. A link can only enter a new area of the forest if the bomb is right next to it, so you may have to wait for the bomb to catch up A few cases. While you don't have to use a bomb until you find the seeds of darkness, it can be set up if it gets too many hits from your enemies – so be careful. Once you find the three seeds of darkness (and they are really hard to find), you don't have to push any buttons – just let the bomb do the work for you! Note: A lot of first-time Zelda gamers think that the main character is called 'Zelda', but this is a popular misconception. Link has always been the main protagonist of the show. Indeed, Princess Zelda often appears to assist Link on his travels, but he is alone here!
